

International Week at IFSI Vinatier: One World, One Health

We are proud to announce that IFSI Vinatier will be hosting its annual International Week, a vibrant event dedicated to global collaboration and innovation in the field of healthcare education.

From 06th to the 10th of October 2026, we will welcome teachers and health professionals from universities around the world to our campus in Lyon for a week-long program of workshops, discussions, and cultural exchange, all centered on key healthcare topics that matter.

A Week of Learning and Collaboration

International Week is more than just a series of lectures—it's a dynamic platform for sharing ideas, practices, and perspectives. Guest speakers from partner institutions across Europe and beyond will present workshops and sessions on a wide range of topics, including:

- › Paediatrics
- › Elderly Care
- › Mental Health
- › Public Health
- › Palliative Care

> Medicine & Surgery

These workshops are specifically designed for our nursing students at IFSI Vinatier, who will gain unique insights into how healthcare is approached around the world.

Building Bridges Across Borders

International Week reinforces our commitment to preparing nurses for an increasingly interconnected world. By engaging with international experts and peers, students not only expand their knowledge but also their cultural competence—an essential skill in today's healthcare systems.

We believe that the exchange of ideas across borders enriches everyone involved and inspires new approaches to patient care and professional collaboration.

Whether you're a student eager to participate, a faculty member interested in collaboration, or a guest speaker planning to present, we invite you to be part of this exciting event.
